About LACUNY

The Library Association of the City Colleges of New York was founded on March 17, 1931. On November 14, 1961, the organization was renamed the Library Association of the City University of New York (LACUNY). The organization is comprised of numerous roundtables and committees that allow librarians to share their knowledge with one another in the various campuses throughout New York City.

Full Membership: Membership is open to anyone on the staffs of the City University libraries who has a Master's degree in educational technology or a master's degree in library science from an accredited institution.

Associate Membership: All non-faculty library employees and others employed in library service in CUNY including retirees, high school teachers affiliated with CUNY, library/information science students attending Queens College Graduate School of Library and Information Studies, and library/information science students employed at a City University library.

Mission Statement

LACUNY is organized exclusively for charitable, scientific, literary, and educational purposes, including without limitation, the encouragement of cooperation among the libraries of the City University of New York, the stimulation of professional growth of the librarians on their respective staffs, and the promotion of the professional interests of the members of the association.
