On November 14, 1961, the organization was renamed the Library Association of the City University of New York (LACUNY). The organization is comprised of numerous roundtables and committees that allow librarians to share their knowledge with one another in the various campuses throughout New York City.

Full Membership: Membership is open to anyone on the staff of the City University Libraries who has a Master's degree in library science from an accredited institution.

Associate Membership: All non-faculty library employees and others employed in library service in CUNY, including retirees, high school teachers affiliated with CUNY, library science students attending Queens College Graduate School of Library Information Studies, and students in library science courses employed at a City University library.

Mission Statement

LACUNY is organized exclusively for charitable, educational, and informational purposes, including the promotion of the professional interests of the librarians and the libraries of the City University of New York, the stimulation of professional growth of the librarians on their respective staffs, and the promotion of the professional interests of the members of the association.
